

The Sovietization of Eastern Europe: New Perspectives on the Postwar Period

By -

New Academia Publishing, LLC. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 364 pages. Dimensions: 8.8in. x 5.9in. x 0.8in. This collection of essays offers a captivating reading on how East-Central Europe was transformed into the Other Europe. It is the first attempt to systematically explore the sovietization process in Central and Eastern Europe after the Second World War. Sovietization is generally understood in the book as a process with a dual dimension: it was in part an imperial project whereby the Soviet system was exported to the region, but it was also an attempt by the governments of the peoples democracies to adopt a Soviet way of life (self-sovietization). Sovietization was a process dictated by ideological imperatives, but it also reflected the distinctive aspect of socialist strategies of state and nation building. Sovietization is examined in the book not only in terms of the imposition of new forms of government, but also in terms of the socialist response to modernity, as reflected in approaches to new technology and management, consumption and leisure patterns, religious and educational policy, political rituals and attitudes to the past. The essays contained in the volume explore the diversity and the tensions within the sovietization process in the countries...
