Thomson to the measurement of the capacity of cables. If the poles of a battery are connected through a high resistance J , + J_i and a point F is connected with earth, its potential becomes zero and points on either side separated from it by equal resistances are at equal but $X F$ Fig. 21. sistances are unequal, opposite potentials. If the re Charge the two condensers by making contact on opposite sides of F at such points that their charges just neutralize. If A and C are the points, (d) Charge the condenser and discharge it through a galvanometer, noting the deflection; charge it again to the original potential and allow it to discharge slowly through a very high resistance. After discharging a definite time T , note the deflection it will give when connected directly to the galvanometer. Then T Capacity $= -p$; $2.303 R, \log -V$ and v are potentials, but as the ratio only is needed, this can be obtained from the ratio of the two deflections. 54. Determination of the Ohm (364). If a coil is rotated in a magnetic field a current is induced, which deflects a needle at the centre of the coil. The force exerted by this current may be shown to be $L-VH$, and the moment acting on a magnet deflected $/2 VH$ through an angle θ is $ml \cos \theta$, where L is the 4 -length of the coil, K the velocity...
